Sometime during the last week of December, the illegal dumping of wood & other construction materials was discovered within the locked compound of the Willow Bunch Transfer Station.

This is considered illegal dumping and is punishable by law. Only clean wood is permitted in the burn pit. Clean wood is defined as branches, limbs, unpainted and/or untreated lumber free of nails and/or hardware.

Please note that operations of the transfer station must comply with regulations sanctioned by the Town of Willow Bunch in conjunction with the Ministry of Environment. Violations and abuse of this kind may result in financial penalties, further restrictions or closure of the transfer station. Insurance Corner

Did you know about:

Trip Interruption insurance:

Trip interruption means an event occurring on or after your departure date causing you to interrupt or disrupt your trip as originally scheduled or to return earlier or later than your return date.

- Maximum coverage—up to $25,000 for trip interruption you choose the limit.
- Annual coverage option for multiple trips throughout the year.

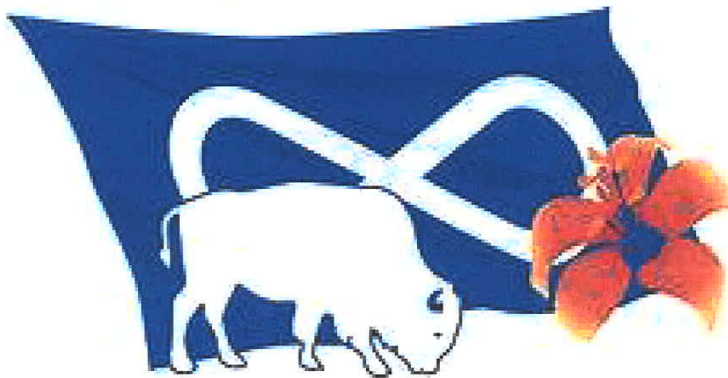

Covered risks include unexpected sickness, injury and/or death of you, your travelling companion, your immediate family or of your travelling companion's immediate family, natural disaster, travel advisory, subpoena, involuntary job loss, missed connection, the non-issuance of a travel visa and more.

If you are a snowbird or someone who finds themselves driving often into the United States this is an especially important coverage for you. If something happens such as a heart attack while you are away, and you are not medically able to drive home but you are able to come home on your own; this is the coverage you need to cover the flight.

Contact your Insurance Broker to find out more about this great coverage.
